Girl: Look! Can you see that shopping centre? The cinema is behind it. I can see it in the distance. This is where we're going.

Man: Finally! I'm so tired. OK. Turn left here. I can see a free spot behind the crossroads. The GPS shows 250 metres, so we have to walk through that park. And there's no point in driving further and getting stuck in a traffic jam.

Girl: Dad, I can't. Only buses and bikes can turn here. There's "no turning left" sign for cars.

Man: Strange... the GPS shows you can turn... well... probably there are some roadworks...

Girl: O, I see another free spot. There, next to that lamp.

Man: Yeah, that one's even better. Now, who's got the tickets?

Girl: Mum has left them on the kitchen table and you took them.

Man: No, I didn't!

Girl: Do you mean they're still at home? Now I have to drive all the way back. I'm sure we'll miss the beginning.

Man: I'm just joking. I have them in my pocket. Here, see?

Girl: Dad! That's not funny!

Man: OK, OK. I'm sorry. Anyways, let's go. I can't wait to see that new comedy. Everybody says that it'll be a big hit!

Woman: OK, and now some information about tomorrow. I think you'll need a raincoat or umbrella as the forecast is not too good. So, no chance to put your sunglasses on. And you have to wear good walking shoes. Don't forget your camera to take wonderful pictures. We'll have a look at the cathedral, and, later on, we'll have a chance to walk through beautiful botanical gardens. Sadly, the trip to the technology museum is cancelled, because it's closed tomorrow. If you're interested to read more about our fascinating city there's an illustrated guide on sale, here, at the reception desk. I hope you will enjoy the tour. See you in the morning, 10 o'clock sharp. The whole trip will take about 5 hours. After the trip we're going straight to the restaurant next to the museum, to eat dinner. And now, I don't want to take more of your time. After all, you're after a long flight. I see that the receptionist has already prepared the room keys for you. So enjoy your stay, relax and see you tomorrow!

Girl: I've had one best friend since the beginning of school. But we didn't meet there. Her parents used to work with my parents. Because me and Sophie are the same age, we started hanging out. We spend much time with each other, mostly just talking or going to the shopping centre. She lives in the same city and when we turn 18 we're going to study at the same university.

Boy: My best buddy is John. We even have birthdays at the exact same date! We spend a lot of time together – we sit at the same desk during the lessons and then come back home together because we live in the same building – he lives on floor 4 and I on floor 7. In our free time we like playing computer games... we both hate sports, unfortunately.

Girl: It may sound funny but my best friend is my older sister. She's always there for me and gives me useful advice when I have problems. Our parents always thought that we would argue but it's the other way round. Now she started studying at the university in a different city so we don't meet often. But we chat on the Internet every day.

Boy: I met Jake on a basketball practice in my local sports club. It quickly turned out that we have a lot in common even though he's two years younger than me. We're crazy about basketball, for example! Sadly, I'm moving to a bigger house far away from the centre. But I'm still going to come to trainings to the club sometimes.
